TO: President Donald J. Trump

Dear Mr. President,

My name is Dominic Box, and I am one of the J6 prisoners currently being held in the D.C. Gulag, where I have been since the fall of 2023. For nearly nine months, I was one of the only pre-trial detainees with no violent charges as a result of that brisk morning in January, when more than a million patriots joined you in Washington after watching the blatantly fraudulent 2020 election. Like you said at your recent rally in Grand Rapids, "I'm not an extremist. I'm someone who likes common sense," and as a Republican poll watcher and volunteer with the Trump victory headquarters in Savannah, Georgia, I know the election was stolen. Everyone with common sense knows that. To this day, I remain fully confident and proud of my decision to attend the events of that day, but to show my support for the greatest president in American history, to broadcast the happenings on the ground, and to count myself among those who refuse to accept anything less than a clean and transparent electoral process.

Understandably, that decision has had its share of consequences. I lost my sales and consulting career in the automotive industry, my home and ability to work in Savannah, and most recently, my car. I had my bank account closed and canceled on platforms such as Airbnb and Uber, and then the social media platforms where I had an engaged and growing following for my conservative political commentary where I covered local and international issues, such as human trafficking, and the Biden border crisis. Speaking of the Biden border crisis, several weeks before attending your first J6 rally in Sarasota, the FBI, who initially made contact with me in February of 2021, allowed me to travel to Juarez, Mexico where I shared the shocking effects of an open border and the termination of your remain-in-Mexico policy with my followers.

Though the flautas and street tacos were enjoyable, witnessing the flouting of our immigration laws and the masses of military-aged men around the world, (so many Chinese) heading north into Texas was not enjoyable. In fact, it was infuriating. Despite waiting nearly two years, the corrupt Biden DOJ, of which you are unfortunately also familiar with, eventually decided to charge me with four misdemeanors - and the only plea deal I received was a ridiculously overbroad 20-year felony obstruction of an official proceeding charge. Naturally, I refused their offer, given my belief that the entirety of my actions that day were protected First Amendment activities, and the expectation that the Supreme Court would eventually rule (as they thankfully did), the over-zealous government prosecutors were stretching the balance of that statute to levels never before used to punish political dissidents. The government responded with issuing a superseding indictment condemning me with three felonies, in addition to the four misdemeanors I was initially charged with more than a year earlier. I chose to proceed with a stipulated trial on June 17, and have now been waiting more than five weeks without a verdict. No matter what ultimately happens in the courtroom, my faith in Almighty God has grown exponentially stronger throughout this process, and I know He will continue to guide me on His path, wherever it leads.

Ultimately, the purpose of this letter is not to describe the struggle I've endured, nor the losses I've experienced, but rather to share with you what was unquestionably the most electrifying, rallying, and motivating moment any of your J6 warriors have shared in the last 3+ years, watching you triumphantly pump your fists in the air, and urging the American people to FIGHT, FIGHT FIGHT! Just after 6 PM that Saturday, many of us were nearing the halfway point of a 1,000 burpee challenge we committed to in honor of a recently sentenced brother who was instrumental in helping elevate our fitness and personal goals. We were surprised to find the fake news showcasing the rally in a rare, uninterrupted format. And though the sweat was pouring down our faces, all eyes in the day room were glued to what was happening in Butler, Pennsylvania. When the shots rang out, and we saw you take cover behind the podium, there were screams, spontaneous tears, and a collective, "no, no, no!" before a crushing silence fell over the unit as we waited for whatever was to come next. Sir, the ensuing moment seemed like an eternity, while all manner of horrifying thoughts raced through our collective minds without a sound being made, until we witnessed your bold and beautiful fist rise into the air. Mr. President, the eruption of cheers, celebration and praise was unlike anything I had ever experienced in my life.

As a graduate of the University of Arkansas, I've seen touchdowns from Darren McFadden at Razorback Stadium, watched Tim Tebow score in the swamp, and have even survived Death Valley at night in Baton Rouge. None of those moments even come close to matching the energy we felt on July 13th in the Patriot Pod within the D.C. Department of Corrections. You mentioned at the RNC in Milwaukee that you weren't supposed to be there, and you're right; not simply because our mighty God saved you from a of bullets, but because you should have been at the White House finishing your second term. Thank heavens our Lord works in mysterious ways, and I don't have to even attempt to understand why things happen the way they do. President Trump, I hope you know how thankful We The People are that you're still with us, and that the J6 community will do everything we can to help you make America great once again. Know that J6 prisoners have a strong community of support, and we take care of each other as new Patriots join us behind bars.

As you can imagine, this has not been so easy on our families. It would mean the world to me if someone could send my mother one of the "never-surrender" mugshot signs I've recently seen at rallies. She has been a nurse for over 30 years and had temporarily relocated from Missouri to assist my recovery from a nearly fatal car accident I was involved in only weeks after J6, and was right by my side when the FBI came through my door. As a single mother, watching her oldest son go through this process has been extremely her. However, as a result, she has now become one of your biggest advocates, is involved in supporting other J6 families, and knows without question that you are the only leader who can help right the wrongs of the past, bring us prosperously into the future, and to make America Great Again.

Signs and slogans aside, I simply want to say thank you. Thank you for showing me what it means to be strong in the face of seemingly insurmountable odds. Thank you for teaching me how to be boldly patriotic and unashamedly proud to be an American. Thank you for all you've given up and endured for people you have never met. Mr. President, thank you for giving me hope that though I may not know what the future holds, that I can be confident in knowing you will never stop fighting for the American people and our ability to live the American dream. May God continue to bless you and your family. And for the record, we now chant Fight! Fight! Fight! after singing the Star-Spangled Banner every night, and once we knew we were going to be alright, we finished those 1,000 burpees.

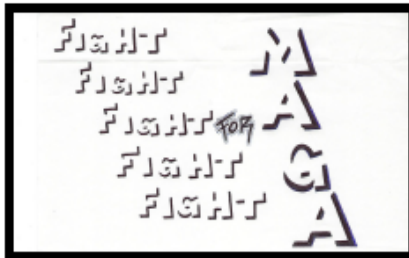

MAGA,

Dominic X. Box
