

DAY 1378 of the J6 Political Hostage Crisis October 15, 2024

A Call to Action Trump's Run

This is a call to actionWe all know that Trump is not just running against Kamala, he's taking on the whole Democratic Machine, plus the Media. We must do everything we can to help him succeed. J6ers need US to take action...in addition to our vote. They have no voices....and what do you think happens to THEM if Trump doesn't win? Here is something MAJOR you can do to make the impact that you can-TODAY!

Sean Hannity has compiled the "Kamala/Walz" files, which are AUDIO clips of Kamala and Walz their own words, in their own voices... of their RADICAL views. It's my firm belief that if people hear these, they WILL vote for Trump.

This call to action is to encourage EVERYONE here to send them by TEXT or EMAIL to EVERYONE you can - NOT SOCIAL MEDIA - they are somehow blocking it from people seeing it. You can see this on Osprey's X channel .

You never know the ONE person (Trump supporter or Not) that you send this to that shares it with the RIGHT people and makes a difference for the TRUTH to be heard WIDELY. Encourage the people you send it to, to share it as well. We can NOT rely on the media to get the truth out and that's where WE THE PEOPLE come in!

Feel free to text this link that contains all the content of this email...if that is your easiest way... <https://ospreysensei.com/kamala-walz-hannity>

WHETHER TEXT OR EMAIL, DO IT TODAY, RIGHT NOW...We are LESS THAN 30 DAYS AWAY FROM ELECTION DAY!

These are some of the short clips of "the most far left, radical Democrat candidate"...below that is a full list.. the image brings you the entire list of Kamala/Walz files.

Walz says "one person's socialism is another person's neighborliness"

Kamala "pledges zero emission vehicles only by 2045"

Walz "gives lecture on justice for George Floyd"

Patriotically Yours,

Osprey Sensei

The J6th defendants have all lost so much. From time with family as newborns or at the end of their lives, milestone occasions, and homes that were unaffordable after being out of work and paying legal fees.

Shawn Bradley Witzemann is among those many and hoping to be able to keep his truck after losing everything including those who funded his work through Facebook. You can hear his ask for help on Rumble and support him @https://donorbox.org/support-1776-returns

The Kamala/Walz File

THE AUDIO THEY DON'T WANT YOU TO HEAR

Kamala Harris is the most far-left, radical Democratic candidate for president in the history of the United States. Once ranked the most liberal Senator in the U.S. Senate, Harris has staked out extremely progressive positions on border security (or lack thereof), immigration, healthcare, fracking, education, energy, and more. And, because she's an opportunist, she's flip-flopped on nearly every issue.

All,

There is a phenomenon that happens in prison that I noticed right when I got here, now I understand it a little more. It is one of those plights a prisoner faces that he can't really avoid--holes.

Walking around are inmates with holes in their shirts, holes in their shorts, holes in their underwear, holes in their socks, holes, and tears in just about everything. Fabric is sometimes nearly translucent. When I first got here, I just figured there was no reason to care about how you looked, maybe the faded, holy clothing was some sort of fashion statement, a badge of the years spent behind bars...Now I know better.

When I first got here, I was issued four pairs of tube socks with big seams in the toes (drives me nuts!), four brown undershirts, four oversize pairs of stick to your butt boxers and of course the Khaki Uniform. First thing is first, you need to buy new ankle socks, without the seams in the toes, shoes, some extra shirts to sleep in and work out in, some cotton fruit of the loom boxer briefs for $12+, gym shorts for $24. Now this time of year, sweats both tops and bottoms need to be purchased at nearly $30 a pop. It's quite an investment, a shirt is nearly $20. Socks are $6+, they all add up, and that is before you get to shoes. A common thing is to buy used clothing in 'the yard' for stamps or cutting other deals for them. This is very sketchy, because I think technically it's a black market. Used shorts, shirts, even socks and underwear get passed around to arrivals just off the bus. When I arrived here, I got a pair of holey shorts and a massively oversized grey shirt, I was loaned a pair of shoes without insoles till my shoes from Philly arrived four weeks later. I bought underwear and socks at the first commissary opportunity.

Well now I have been in this location going on five months, and I am starting to see why so many inmates have holes. My shirts are getting holes, my socks ALL have holes in the toes and some the heels, even my underwear is coming apart at the seams. The shorts I got when I first arrived here have turned into Swiss cheese even further.

I think this is a phenomenon from washing everything twice a week in industrial washers with who knows how strong a detergent; the wearing of every article at least one day a week, constant walking and standing, it all contributes to the holes. I was putting on a pair of holey socks today, and realized, as of today, every single pair I have now has holes big enough for my whole big toe to slip through (something I detested at home), all my underwear has holes (I had to much dignity to be 'that guy'), and I looked down any my oversize grey shirt has a series of holes running down the front. It's not a badge of honor, it's not a sign of how much time you have spent here, because my brand-new socks and underwear devolved in a matter of months. No, it is an economic choice.

Should I buy soups or socks?

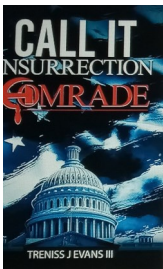

Holes.

Call It Insurrection Comrade

By Treniss J Evans III

Treniss Evans is the latest among the January 6th defendants to put his account out to the public. January 6th defendants are not allowed to profit off of their stories so all the proceeds from the book sales (Amazon & Barnes and Noble) will go to CondemnedUSA which was also born out of the persecution Evans faced as a January 6th defendant.

The description of the book on Amazon reads as follows “The story of Treniss Evans, a man who refused to accept the injustice of the Biden administration’s Department of Justice and Democrats during the attacks launched against conservatives in the wake of January 6th.”

Order your copy of history being told by someone who was there today and assist in funding further legal work so this country can return to a country of law and order. (Image taken from Amazon)

David Dempsey We Are Good Men

On the latest episode of the We Are Good Men podcast David Dempsey is interviewed. He walks through what it is like to be born and raised in California, with the exception of a couple years spent with his dad in Colorado. He talks about how California is not what people think of it as, and that there are many Republicans, and Trump supporters out there.

David also talks about the time he and his siblings spent in the foster care system and how his grandparents had to fight the system for custody of him although they were related.

The singing of the national anthem is also taped in this episode. You can see Jeffrey Sabol leading the singing with a post card as his conductors want to keep everyone on pitch.

There is also a lot of talk about the omnibus bill that was passed and what all was in it. Why would a bill come forth that states the very thing people thought Pence was going to do in 2020 is now how we are to proceed as a country when elections are certified? This and so much more is in this 1.5 hour episode.

October 10 Ashli's Birthday

While many have endured birthdays incarcerated for being at the capitol on January 6th there were 4 who never got the opportunity to celebrate another birthday. Among those are Ashli Babbitt. A woman who served her country, and on the 6th went and stood for the freedoms she fought for.

There was a beautiful tribute that appeared in the Gateway Pundit (pictured left) on Thursday. There were also many ways of honoring her including laying flowers on the steps of the capitol building where she was killed along with food and cake at the vigil that night.

Micki is still in DC seeking and awaiting justice both for her daughter and the 1500 defendants that have endured the accusations of what they did that day.

Sunday Devotional From DC Jail

While the guys always ask how Taylor Johnatakis is it is coming up on a year since he was remanded into custody and few if any know him. There is such a sense of community among those who endure the hardships that come with all that is being endured. You can hear about some of it on the Sunday devotional.
